CAREER PLANNING FOR GRADUATES IN COVID SITUATION

2020 was termed the worst year ever for the job market in India because of Covid-19. Due to financial stress, many industries laid off employees. However, the Healthcare and Education sectors saw a positive impact from the lockdown with close to 0.4 million new jobs being created in these segments according to Industry estimates. Similarly, there are lot more sectors which saw growth and there was demand for employees. So, it's very important to revise your career plan according to the current situation. Now, what is your plan to tackle these employment issues? Do you want to know the growing trends in Job market? Then this workshop might definitely benefit you!
